

Eleva Coffee at the Dairy Market

Eleva coffee, a Brooklyn-based coffee roasting company, is the Dairy Market's center hall farm-to-cup coffee company. Their motto is Love Your Coffee, Make A Difference, and their name is derived from the Spanish verb "to rise up."

Owner, Emilio Baltodano, aims to offer coffee aficionados a positive and uplifting, yet affordable, coffee experience, while simultaneously helping to lift up the small farming communities that make great coffee possible. At its core, Eleva Coffee is about connecting people and driving positive change through enterprise. Eleva sources in three origins, Nicaragua, Guatemala, and Ethiopia, which produce distinct-tasting, spectacular coffees.
